Copper (getcopper.com) helps teens, and families, manage money in the new digital economy.

[Parent Summary]

Parents, your teen attended a workshop where they learned the basics of financial literacy and they just need your help. Copper provides the tools your teen needs to continue building good spending habits and lets you monitor their account once your account is connected.

[Parent Features]

Use your Copper account to watch your kids' money grow, and give them an extra bump of cash if they need it. Use the Copper Wallet to view your transfers and your teens debit spending, and transfer money directly to your teens account. Download the Copper app to get started in less than one minute and start celebrating your teens' savings goals.

[Parent Actions]

To get started, download the Copper app and follow the prompts to set up your account. You can connect your teens account during this process.

[Teen Summary]

Teens, you know the deal. You learned about managing money and how Copper can help you become more financially literate. While you wait for your parents or guardian to sign up, read bite-sized bits of knowledge over at the Money Moves blog, or earn more free cash (and stocks) by inviting friends.

[Teen Features]

Copper offers world-class money management tools specifically for teens, with savings accounts, direct deposit, and access to 55k ATMs nation-wide. And on top of that, you will have access to instant p2p transfers, investing, and ways to earn free cash.

[Teen Actions]

Invite your parents to install Copper to get your debit card and all the perks that come with it.
